Well, we know the problem and because we feel the same Make Me have opened Selection Box in Manchester's Triangle, a contemporary emporium of affordable but totally unique items, and the perfect antidote to mass-production and logo-mania.

Make Me is a group of like-minded north west – based professional designers.

- Claire Norcross is a rising star and now lighting designer at Habitat
- Collette's jewellery doesn't sit on the fence, it combines classic, cool with a bit of an edge
- Graham and Tom of Studio 24 make individual pieces of furniture which look equally at home in Manhattan loft apartments, Barcelona bars and Didsbury terraces
- Electric Wig voted 'designers to look out for in 2004' took 100% Design by storm this year planting new design ideas in the corporate sector
- Caroline's bags and accessories make felt feel so good
- Jason recycles the everyday into clever and amusing lighting
- You will find politics not mince pies on Steve Dixon's ceramic plates
- Oranges are not the only fruit that Jenny uses to make her tasty children shoes

And there's so much more

Lots of us have been selected to show at leading London design events shows like 100% Design, Designersblock, London Fashion Week Collect and Chelsea. We have come together and invited other strong quality designers to join us in Selection Box.

The stock and display will change regularly as all items are one-offs or limited editions, so it's worth visiting more than once, and the designers will often be on hand to tell you more about the work and how it has been made.

So, if self expression, individualism or impressing someone you love for Christmas are your top priorities then Selection Box offers an unconventional choice of distinctive one-off designs that are guaranteed to inspire, delight and relieve the stress of Christmas shopping.

We are only open until Christmas eve.
